REPORT

Best Practices-I

Title: Addressing Social and Community Responsibility

Objectives

1. To extend social service among community.
2. To aware students and teachers about the importance of Blood Donation.
3. To organize social awareness programs.
4. To develop environmental sensibility among students.
5. To instill among students' positive attitude towards social responsibility.
6. To cultivate feeling of empathy among students.

The Context

Columbia College strives to fulfil its social responsibility by organising social activities in nearby communities with the moto to bring awareness among people regarding gender sensitisation, child labour, environmental issues, women empowerment also contribute towards national responsibilities by organising various programmes of national importance. Donate Blood, Save Life, Columbia Group of Institutions organises Blood Donation Camp at college campus with the aim to serve the society by donating blood every year. The staff, students are motivated to participate in this activity willingly without any enforcement. This effort of the college instils among students the sensibility to help the needy and to fulfil their social responsibility.

ThePractice

The Columbia Group of Institution organises Community activity and social awareness program. Community activity and social awareness programmes was organised in nearby villages with the moto to aware people against child labour, gender sensitisation, child labour, environmental issues, women empowerment. Blood Donation Camp in association with Indian Red Cross Society and HDFC bank on 15/12/2022. Before blood donation, the donors undergo with various test in which blood profile, sugar, Blood pressure and other tests were included. The pupil teachers and the other donors who donated blood in the camp received certificates for their selfless service and they also became a reason for someone's smile.

The Evidence of Success

The camp was successfully organised in which students and teachers were willingly participated and develops awareness among people towards various social issues. The Sarpanch and renowned members of the village gives are present in the programmes and promised to fight against the social evils and develops their villages. In blood donation camp students and teachers are donated blood to save the life of the needy people. This practice helps developing positive attitude among students towards the service of mankind. This initiative of

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Social and community activities are conducted in nearby villages with the permission of the Sarpanch. It is also difficult to gather targeted villagers under one roof because they are engaged in their daily chores, sometimes we accessed people by talking to them individually. It is also very difficult to persuade the students for donation. It requires a lot of efforts to motivate them and explained that blood donation does not have cost any health problems as well as it should be also taken care that all the requirements along with safety measures properly followed because the safety of the students are the prime responsibility of the institution.

Best Practices-II

Title: Creative Art Skill Development Program

Objectives

1. To promote innovation, creativity and fine motor skills in the students.
2. To provide opportunity to learn various art and craft skills.
3. To train them to create various objects at low cost.
4. To develop decision making skills among Students.

The Context

This program is organized with the purpose to harness creative talents of the students, and bring harmony in body, mind and soul of the participants. At first this activity was initiated at college level and gradually taking it to the nearby government schools. Participants learn various arts and craft skill as well as create their own creations. The training is provided to students and trainee teachers at free of cost.

The Practice

This practice involves training of various art and craft skills as well as provides them the opportunity to produce their own work of art through exhibition that develops feeling of appreciation towards their creation. Principal of the institution himself visit schools to encourage and motivate teachers and students to involve in this training program and draw maximum benefits. Certificate of participation is also given to each participant and in valedictory ceremony two students from each school are awarded with a prize for their best creative work with the aim to facilitate and encourage them to avail this opportunity for their future endeavours.

The Evidence of Success

Creative Art Skill Development Programme was organised in Govt. H.S. School on 18/08/2022 and Govt. H.S. School Mandhar, Raipur on 16/08/2022 in which 69 students were participated enthusiastically.

Problem Encountered and Resources Required

The problem is to motivate teacher's trainee for participating in Creative Art Skill Development Program, therefore we got lesser number of participants earlier. As our target participants from the nearby government schools, it is a tough task to take permission from the school authority for conducting this activity; therefore, it takes time to select schools. School students are from rural belt and from economically weaker section they couldn't buy even the cheapest required materials.

Village Survey, Awareness Rally organised by Columbia College

■ Staff Reporter
 RAIPUR, Feb 12

THE pupil teachers of Columbia College actively participated in 'Community Activity Programme' with an aim to empower the community by addressing issues that affect them collectively.

As scheduled, programme began after felicitation ceremony to Sarpanch of Mandhar Gram Panchayat Dashmat Dhruv and Principal of Government Higher Secondary School, Mandhar Bhusendra Nayak by Dr Arun Kumar Dubey, Principal of Columbia College, Social Awareness and Extension Committee and the Prevention of Woman Harassment Cell of the college.

Pupil teachers of Columbia College spread awareness about gender sensitisation.

Mandhar School campus which helped to sensitise about gender sensitisation.

The pupil teachers of the college beautifully performed in the street play and through their act they conveyed a strong message in the society towards gender equality. To spread awareness on various burning issues, the pupil teachers also conducted a rally in the village by holding banners and placards depicting slogans like Beti Bachao Beti Padhao, save water, stop female foeticide, stop plas-
